

NIHONGO STUDY GUIDELINES (BU ENDORSED)

In an effort to improve and strengthen our Nihongo class system, we are rolling out new guidelines that would help in reaching our goal of increasing JLPT certified employees every year. With the help of the new system, we are looking into lessening the challenges encountered both by the student and teacher in handling lessons.

The new Nihongo class system is delivered every three months. BU endorsed employees are handpicked by their respective BU heads in high hopes of having these particular employees pass the JLPT. These particular employees were found to be high performing when it comes to learning the Nihongo language.

CLASS POLICY

Endorsement

1. Certain students are endorsed by their respective Business Units basing on the project needs and BU JLPT targets.

Attendance

1. Class will stretch for 1 hour. Attendance is a must.
2. Tardiness is strongly discouraged. Maximum allowable tardy instances within three (3) months is only up to five (5) instances.
 - 2.1 Exceeding the tardy count stated above will result to automatic dropping from the class.
3. Absences will not be tolerated. It is expected that each BUs will be giving their endorsed members the time to go to class and the time to study. Thus, there will be no reason for an endorsed member to skip classes.
 - 3.1 Any absences incurred by the employee will be reported directly to their BU heads.
 - 3.2 If an employee incurs absence due to sickness, this shall be considered.
 - 3.3 If such circumstance is to happen, the student should send an email to his/her teacher informing them of his/her reason for being absent. Student must copy Giselle of HR in their email.

Class Hour Agreement

1. The one (1) hour spent on Nihongo class should be aligned with your PL/PM.

Dropping

1. Dropping out from Nihongo class will not be tolerated. Should this happen due to a special instance, the employee has to inform his/her BU head and must copy Giselle of HR in their dropping out email.

Expectations

1. An endorsed employee is expected to pass the exercises and exams given by Sensei. They are expected to do well in class since they are given ample time to attend class and study.
2. For BU endorsed employee who will be taking the JLPT exam, the BU places high hopes on them that they will pass the exam given the study time awarded to each.

Courtesy

As a courtesy to your Nihongo teacher, we would like to emphasize on the following.

1. Use of mobile phones are not allowed during the class, except for emergency cases.
2. Use of headphones are not allowed.
3. You are encouraged to seat properly. Good posture is important because it minimizes the excessive force that muscles and joints need to absorb.
4. Pay attention to your teacher. Talking in Nihongo during the class is highly recommended.
5. In special cases like the current pandemic, classes are to be done online. Students are still expected to strictly follow the Nihongo Class Guidelines.

I hereby acknowledge that I have read, understand and agree to the terms of this document relating to Nihongo class rules and guidelines.
